To Whom It May Concern

I came across Mrs Brown's website while looking for a tutor for my 8 year old grandson who was unhappy and struggling at school. I thought he would benefit from some one-on-one tutoring and after reading some of the testimonials decided to give her a call.

From the moment Mrs Brown met us at the door I knew I had done the right thing. The home is immaculate and the setting in which Riley was taught was relaxed and comfortable. Riley's first words when I picked him up on the first day were "can I come back tomorrow".

On tutoring days we would arrive straight from school and Mrs Brown would have a drink and a snack waiting for Riley on the kitchen bench which he always looked forward to. At the end of each session he was so eager to show me the work he had done and the stickers, pencil or eraser he had been given as encouragement.

Mrs Brown was extremely patient, encouraging and kind during all our time visiting her and it was her suggestion that Riley be tested for Dyslexia. His Mum made an appointment to have him tested and it was found this was the reason for his learning problems. I am extremely grateful to her for picking up the Dyslexia, something all his teachers had missed. Unfortunately we have stopped visiting Mrs Brown while Riley's doctor is trying out some other teaching methods but I would not hesitate to take him back when the time is right.

During our time visiting Mrs Brown she was not only Riley's tutor but a friend to both of us and Riley was very sad he would no longer be visiting her. I thank Mrs Brown for her help over the past year and would not hesitate in recommending her services to anyone considering a tutor for their child.

Kind regards
